RICHARD M. WARTES

June 17, 1967

Dear Hal:

Starr's letter of authorization arrived yesterday; now, the tough stuff starts.

I need six more sets of WHITEWASH and WHITEWASH II for inclusion in the Prospectus; they should be of first class condition, if possible, since they will be read by some high up mucky-mucks.

I must tell you that I have a good feeling about our prospects of making a viable arrangement for the movie and TV rights; for the most obvious of reasons these people are a little gun-shy about so controversial a subject matter, but I believe I can detail the kind of proposal that will erase their inhibitions.

As they say.....where there's a will.....there's usually a body.....or something like that.

My best to your dedicated wife; when this whole thing is over we'll get her some new fingers.

Best Personal Regards,

Jonn
